Alcohol is a drug which can alter ones mind. Tobacco alters a person's mind as well.

Although I don't take, I do support the legalization of Marijuana, simply because we can tax the f*ck out of it, make billions, and rip off idiot teen-agers who are lazy, and listen to Blink 182.

If commercialized, Pot will no longer be a fun drug. Pot was, and still is about the 'anti-establishment' . What better way to get people from not doing it than making it part of the Capitalist establishment. Give the rights to grow the stuff to Marlboro, Players, et al, to grow the stuff. Have them use their market-power to eliminate the small suppliers, and make it illegal to grow your own.
