Like when you install BR, brloader keeps updating the same shit, cause of a certain file mishap or whatever, and then IPBot trying to connect to the database but it says "invalid password"

Two things:

1: I didn't miss any files from the installer, it installs BIATCH exactly the same as the zip file from BlackIntel does, so if there's something missing it was also missing from the zip file when I downloaded it from their website.

2: Did you actually GET a password for the IPDB? If not then that's why you get invalid password messages. Also that's only on versions of the IPDB plugin that were released AFTER that installer was made, hence why it updates to that version.
