I would make a crippling patch that once and for all drives the final nail in to the coffin that is Renegade. XWIS will run the patch and it will be mandatory for all clients.

This patch will be so fubar that renegade wont even launch and any attempt to connect to XWIS using any other client version will result in an immediate IP/Serial/Dynamic Host ban.

You wont even get a message saying their is a new version, just auto ban. Any and all XWIS clones will be sought after with strict legal action and of course gayspy will also follow the crippling patch standards.

Enjoy your skirmish.
