Heh, they may have broken the rules - But they've proven they don't need to. They kicked all manner of ass this entire season, and if they win then it's well deserved in my opinion. Since I really don't care at this point who wins, I guess I'll be rooting for them. F-you 79' Dolphins.

Now if only the Lions could capitalize off of a 7th round pick like New England did...Hell, I'd like them to capitalize off of a 1st round pick
