Why, oh why, has nobody given the (coding) masses the ability to create proper console commands? (Ghostshaw and I have plans to change the situation outside the scripts.dll though.)

I think jonwil didn't do that because it could be abused on the client scripts.dll to do things that start with a 'c'.

Yeah, yeah...I know the drill...Rene needs a massive security upgrade... (and I hope we can get our little secret rolled out the door soon)
