Right, i don't know about anyone else but when i'm playing in snipe only games people rarely use the radio commands.

Typical situation, just spotted the enemy in the powerplant... i would quickly press Ctrl+Alt+5 (Attack the powerplant) maybe followed by a Ctrl+0 (Enemy spotted). Or if EVA says a structure is under attack, i'll either say "I'm in position" or "Attack that structure".

Now you'd be surprised how many people reply to it saying, "n00b, no base destruction or i'll kick". :rolleyes:

Who agrees with me on this?

What other radio commands have you seen used, or use yourself?
