- Lack of really good third party games
- No HD support (480p is NOT high definition)
- Lack of movie playback
- Lack of music playback
- Horrible online services (friend codes? fuck that)
- Huge price for its lack of features
- Overall kid-oriented games, which aren't of any use to me right now

Wait, you claim you wouldn't buy a Wii if the graphical power was better, then list lack of HD as a reason why you didn't?

One thing I think we can all agree with however, is that "Friend Codes" suck donkey dick.
