Polaroid film production is definately stopping, however they said they would sell the production rights if some other company wanted to continue making it. Also Fujifilm makes polaroid film I'm nearly positive. The reason they are getting rid of it is because it is truely an outmoded technology. The polaroid was designed so that you could take a picture and get an instant result. Nowadays you can actually take a picture on a tethered rig with a laptop and print it out on a photojet in less time than it would take you to flail around with your polaroid. Not only that but the results would be untold amounts better and more versatile. In the digital age there really is no place for Polaroids.
