I dont respect the military more than any other organisation. and as for the US military can fuck right off, until they learn to shoot in a str8 line AT THE ENEMY and not themselves or Allies then they can go to hell.

If the leaders of this world did thier job properly then we wouldnt need a millitary to pursue wars that really dont have anything to do with them.

In my lifetime, I am 18 btw not 10, the millitary, either US or UK or otherwise have not done ANYTHING for me what so ever. Until the people commanding the military learn some respect for us, the public, then they can all go to hell, they dont have, or deserve, any more rights or respect or anything else over any other person on this planet.

As for the A10 for gods sake how many times do I have to say ITS A FUCKING GAME, IT IS NOT REAL, IT REALLY DOESNT MATTER WHAT SPRITES AND TEXTURES DROP OFF A GAME ITEM BECAUSE ITS JUST A GAME.

And FYI no, I dont intend to sign up with the military, simply because I dont want to die for some useless thing I dont believe in. All the soldiers who go to battle KNOW they might well die, its part of the job and I dont want to kill and/or be killed because some dumb ass guy decided that its the right thing to do. Thats why I dont want to be in the military, why they deserve no more respect than anyone or anything else and why I really dont understand, and to be honest dont really care, why the US crys like a kid who just had his new toy taken from him when a soldier dies.
