If you feel the need to report me to the FBI, go ahead, let's see what happens

I'm pretty sure I could call the local FBI field office and say "um yeah, I want to turn myself in because I posted a link to a game that came out before you even took your first law enforcement class...oh yeah and to install and properly play this "warez", you have to use a serial number which you paid for....take me away officer".

It would probably be the highlight of their day. They would send SWAT and at least 200 officers to surround my house. 3 Helicopters, snipers on the neighbors rooftops. Amber alerts too. This menace must be stopped! It's up to you!

You're a American living after the 911, so I wouldn't put it past the FBI or anyone else to come knocking and dress you up in some orange pants for warez.
