And I wanted to reply to that locked topic.

I can't know... that's not good... can cause brain cancer

Edit: I used to play on a server that didn't use any "modern" Renegade server mod. It was basically the vanilla renegade with a custom command bot that was essentially used only for things like showing rankings and such. I remember there where two different limits for Remote and Proxy on that server. In fact that was the server were I learned there was a difference in mines.
