You have to pump out about 10 Marines and 3 Siegetanks fast and keep pressure on the first base, eventually eliminating it. Then build a base there. Dont forget to buy Explorerships to get detection against nukes (2 explorerships, no more, not much gas on the map). There's another free mineral&gas spot somewhere which you'll have to take to. Then you've already pretty much won, you can either nuke the northern base to death with ghosts or mass an assault army with >8 Trooptransports and try to takeo ver the ion cannon that way.

PS: Im looking forward to both.
