Like seriously, why the hell do I have TWO melon-ballers?! I've never even used one before. I've found a blender, a slightly more powerful blender, and a freaking Cuisinart. I've found some margarita-martini-cocktail mixing thinger, and yet I think cocktails are totally fagged out. Hell, in another box, I've found various hubcaps, and a George Foreman 'Lean Mean Fat-Reducing Grilling Machine' , plus some panini grill... and I don't even know what panini is. I've even found a slide projector that looks like it's from the Seventees, and the box it's in definitely smells like it's from the Seventees.

What am I going to do with all this crap!? FUCK.
