Very interesting new release.

Looking forward to hearing more details as they are announced. I expect it will be some time until we get concrete news.

Overall this is very exciting as it finally combines most of the strengths of the communities, whereas before knowledge was split up in different silos. That is what I appreciate most about this announcement. The fact that cheats may be conquered again is also a huge bonus.

Keep up the hard work, and I hope that more members may be included in the future!

Kudos TT!
