This is clearly a bug in renegade and should be fixed like any other bug in renegade. Westwood should have fixed it but they did not do so. If Westwood were still around and making patches for renegade, I am sure they would fix this bug in exactly the same way we did.

As a programmer, I refuse to deliberately leave a bug unfixed just because some players are used to how the gameplay works with the old broken code. Westwood never intended for you to get so many points for shooting a harvester with a sniper rifle or other small arms.
