anyways, i have reinstalled ren and its still not working properly.

i can run game2.exe but not game.exe.

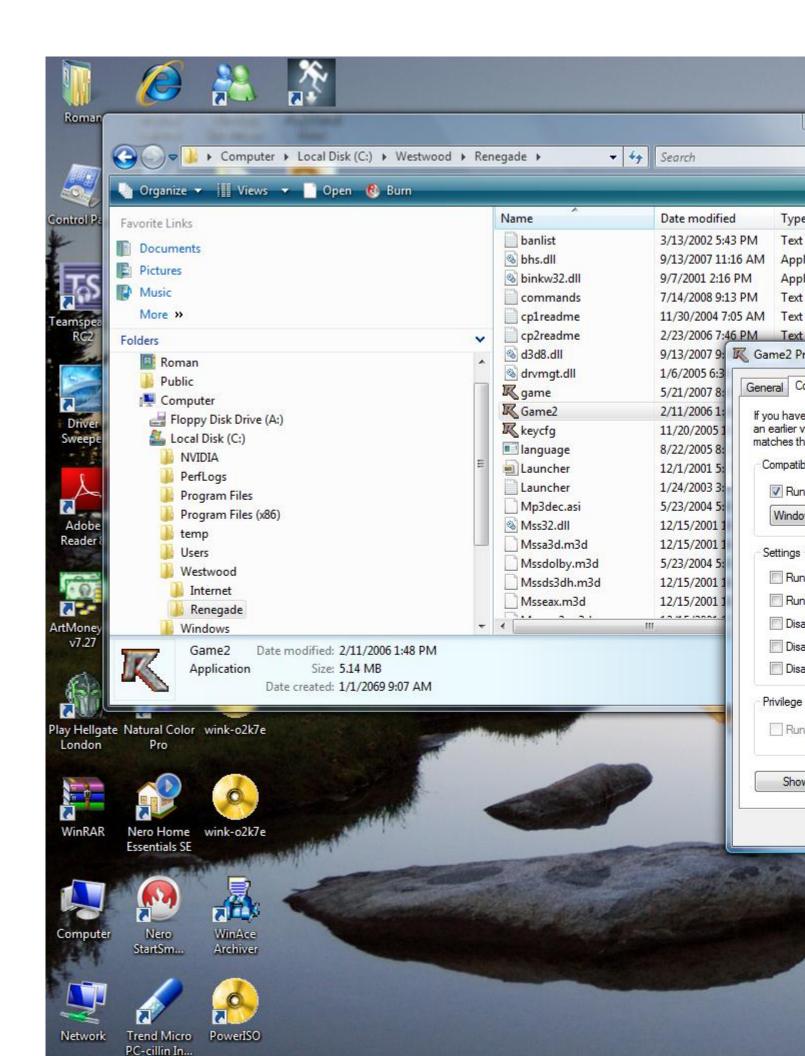

i cant change the properties on them to "run as administrator", which was told is critical component to make them work in vista.

now im asking for help, as i cannot figure out how to change it. the option is greyed out, but i am the admin on this computer.

here are some screen shots to explain the situation.
