Infinintthese are true:

i have built a gernade luancher

i have drawn up planes from my own buggie convection for my go cart (when i finnly get it) i have replied to this post almost every time there is a thunder storm that wakes me up at night I yelled "Find that becon" or some other phrase.

made planes for a working stelth tank (i need around i few milloin dollers, anyone?)

i have put up tiberios posters all over my room, house, and school (my teachers did not like the 200 some sheets paper i "wasted")

I also yell out find that beacon, or destroy that beacon whenever I wake up in the middle of a thunder storm, or when it is snowing and I look out the window. I have Plans for a Flamethrower, and Mines (Not Proximaty) on a Cd at my house. I also have Replied to this topic
