Don't worry. There are plenty of people still playing Renegade online. Westwood Online may be deceased (that means their server won't work if you try going to it; they stopped hosting games online for Renegade quite a while ago), but Gamespy Arcade still works. Here are the following steps: 1. Make sure you're online (pretty obvious) 2. click on Gamepspy after you choose online multi-player on the Renegade menu 3. download Gamespy Arcade 4. create your login and stuff like that 5. login your account 6. click on "my games" on the sidebar and choose "Renegade". 7. then press multi-player at the top right corner 8. double-click the server you want to go on and you're done!

By the way, I still play myself. If you see "WolfWarrior2", that's me. Send me a message so I know what you call yourself on Renegade.
