1)CarrierII wrote on Sun, 17 August 2008 13:21That's unusual. I like unusual problems

Can you open your hosts file ("C:\Windows\System32\Drivers\Etc\Hosts" in Vista and XP, open it with Notepad) and remove the entry probably looking like:

"64.34.46.60 c.xwis.com" (remove any entry that has "c.xwis.com" on that line)

c.xwis.com is 64.14.244.60, NOT 64.34.46.60, which is what your system thinks it is.

Problem freaking solved. (I hope)

hey carrierII mine ahs like 567890 number of 127.0.01 ip's placed by spybot search and destroy then has this at end (i put in the xwis one myself)

End of entries inserted by Spybot - Search & Destroy

212.162.52.233 irc.westwood.com
```

```
212.162.52.233 servserv.westwood.com
```

64.14.244.60 c.xwis.com

does it look right?
