1) Carrier II wrote on Sun, 17 August 2008 13:21 That's unusual. I like unusual problems

Can you open your hosts file ("C:\Windows\System32\Drivers\Etc\Hosts" in Vista and XP, open it with Notepad) and remove the entry probably looking like:

"64.34.46.60 c.xwis.com" (remove any entry that has "c.xwis.com" on that line)

c.xwis.com is 64.14.244.60, NOT 64.34.46.60, which is what your system thinks it is.

Problem freaking solved. (I hope)

hey carrierII mine ahs like 567890 number of 127.0.01 ip's placed by spybot search and destroy then has this at end (i put in the xwis one myself)

End of entries inserted by Spybot - Search & Destroy 212.162.52.233 irc.westwood.com 212.162.52.233 servserv.westwood.com 64.14.244.60 c.xwis.com does it look right?
