If he was JUST a nuisance, he wouldn't have been banned. The moderating staff doesn't just ban because someone is annoying. On top of being that nuisance, he's broken forum rules, and has been previously banned for his infractions.

Troop being banned and the community's support of it shows just how universal his annoyance was. Could he have just been ignored, universally? Sure, but that doesn't change the fact that he's broken rules.

Edit: Also, why the fuck do new people register and then post, talking about what they think should be or should have been done? This is just as silly as someone moving to a foreign country and automatically assuming they have a voice.
