Well I don't look at my score, my kills or whatever. I just play with the cash I have. If I don't have cash I get a shotgunner or something and fool around or sometimes an engineer and repair tanks/buildings. That is my game play, it will still not be effected. I don't care if I win or lose.

If I have money, I might get the PIC or Railgun out. If not, it doesn't matter I just do something else. More points/cash wont effect my game play. If the other team has more points and cash then their tanks and soldiers are just fodder for whatever character or tank I have.
