Also, I find it hilarious how you criticize someone for apparently being wrong about something, yet you don't have the balls to argue on your own behalf.

Lastly, as I said, you generally need a headshot with the shotgun. I dunno, maybe I should have used the remington more, but the SPAS-12 sure as hell sucked more balls than it should have. Unless they recently introduced a new shotgun, both sucked as far as I know.

so you're making fun of me because i don't wanna to argue with a nerd who sits on a forums for a game he doesnt play all day long? nice nerd logic + reply time...it almost took you 5 minutes, you're getting slow!

Dude quit being a faggot, whether Cabal is a nerd or not has nothing to do with this shit. Somebody doesn't agree with you about a game so you turn into a douche and start flinging out random bullshit? whatever.

anyways on topic, he and I and someone else just played CA for a while.. and damn this game is horrible now. Seriously, everything's one shot kill even with headshot condoms (aka helmets)

This game would be so much better if guns were a one time buy, and there was a ton more customization options. It sucks because after a few days you inevitably get stuck back with the m16 no matter how well/ long you play (I'm talking about a normal player, playing an hour or two at one time not all day long.)
