

---

Subject: Re: Red Alert 3 buying survey

Posted by R315r4z0r on Wed, 15 Oct 2008 02:56:51 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I just read up on the DRM being included with RA3, and it really isn't as bad as everyone is making it out to be.

Sure it has that 5 install max limit thing, but you can call customer service to reactivate the game. THIS ONLY COUNTS FOR ONLINE PLAY.

You are STILL ALLOWED TO PLAY THE GAME if you run out, but you just can't play ONLINE. You can play offline, but not online.

Another thing about the DRM is that it means you don't need the disk to play the game. Once you install it, you can take the disk out and hide it somewhere because you don't need it to play. (Previously, games that required the disk to play were for piracy reasons, but since SecuROM has that being controlled from another perspective, disk requirements are unneeded)

---