On behalf of WW-Gaming I'd be willing to handle the upkeep of RenHelp.net. In fact WW-Gaming has something in store for the entire Renegade community but I'm not going to reveal what until I get it all sorted out. But I'm confident that we could handle and improve RenHelp. By improve I mean: some better organization, collecting more information and storing it, etc. I also have an idea to integrate it into an "Article System" which would give it a better look and better organization. Plus, it'd be much easier to manage that way too.
