I had so many great games, it's hard to pick one. I remember a great game on city flying where I asked my team to light tank rush the agt, which we got down in the first 5 minutes (more or less) xD. It was so great because I had never seen a succesful light tank rush on city flying before xD. It was a long time ago, though .

One other game that can be classed as a "great moment" was a recruit training on islands where we, Nod, lost airstrip and GDI lost all except the war factory. We raveshaw rushed the war factory in the last minutes and killed it. I think we had like 5 raveshaws attacking on a 6 player team. It's amazing how fast a war factory can go against raveshaws .

Another one was during our I-CW where a seemingly lost game on Snow turned into a win for us (GDI) because of my ped ion. The ion killed 7 people that were trying to repair it in Vain . Mega boink!
