I don't think this has been asked before, searched for SBH in this forum and didn't come up with this bug. If it has been asked about, my bad, my apologies.

For the ones not knowing this bug, here's a video demonstrating it: Click here

Basically, when you're gdi and have a targetbox in your screen, and you then (accidentally) go with your recticle over an SBH, the targetbox disappears. This allows you to spot SBH's pretty easy if you know how.

Could/Should this bug be fixed?
