In Renegade, the Ramjet is supposed to be a better version of the .50 CalibEr rifles that Barrett makes.

Also yeah Nukelt pretty much got it. .50 ammo is super expensive and super huge, and not very practical for non military uses.

Me? M4 chambered in Remington 6.8 (essentially the Barrett M468-REC7) and an M14 in 7.62 is all I would ever want. Aside from maybe a Mosin Nagant, but that's another story.
