Since I got my new computer, with an HD4870, I'm getting a strange thing, where I suddenly see a blue screen, whereas it looks like I'm in blue hell or something, and I see myself getting 'damaged' by all directions (red indicators, green for me due my HUD skin). ALSO, I DON'T see myself falling through the ground.

I can see everything clear from HUD to names, but everything else is blue (or red due nuke, bad weather due ion)... It happens quite often, and I don't know what's causing it. It often fixes itself too, but sometimes it reappears after 10-30 seconds. Happens in vehicles, but also as infantry.

Screenshots:

Sak near the HoN, suddenly appeared...

As a Sak in the HoN, near the MCT, dunno where I was exactly.

NOTE that I didn't paste it correctly, that's why you see a part of the first screenshot too. I have to paste in paint, because my PrintScreen button doesn't autosave screenshots in the Data folder for unknown reason.

Im using the latest scripts that is released, from MP-Gaming 3.4.4, with bloom and AA on (everything max), max settings etc.
