Hello, my name is Mark Skaggs and welcome to Command and Conquer: Renegade! We at EA have been carefully reading these message boards and have decided to make a final patch to the game. Included in this patch will be major bug fixes and 3 new maps. These maps will revolutionize the gaming community as you and I know it. One map, Volcano Flying, will support the new tank supplier feature. Also, there will be several balance issues addressed such as grenades doing more damage but having a shorter range. More to come!
