Taking waaaay too long though. I don't want to be that guy "omgz vaporware duke nukem forever"
but we don't want another Reborn here.

We've only had UT3 for a year now, and games usually take longer than a year to make. I think we're going at a perfect pace right now; we do want a quality mod after all.

Really only a year? It seems like that has been going on for much longer than that. I guess its just because I've been away.

As for the Reborn group, they are working hard as always.
