Obviously if you're prepared to release your working solution to the problem to Gen, then that's great. You're not stepping on my toes at all, shoot away man .

I can't remember how the early version of DA did this, and I don't have the source anymore since my external hard drive broke down. But it's probably still hosted somewhere, I am happy to give it a go and use that as a base for re-creating it if you're reluctant to hand him your source/plugin/whatever.
