Thing is: who would be foolish enough to change hard- or software each time he wants to cheat on Renegade?

I have 5 Renegade capable computers sitting around fully set up at my house, if I wanted to change hardware just to cheat on renegade its not that hard, they all connect to my wireless network but I can easily access my neighbor's networks as well, so if it came to an easy IP change it only takes a few seconds to switch to someone else's router...
