No, that statement has already been made, by xptek himself. I'm just asking him to reconsider.

By all means let him carry on thinking we're all hopeless morons. But what a great guy he'd be if, despite hating us all, he did something really great for everybody. I'll even shave my neckbeard. Dover, will you join me?

Goztow is correct, a PM would do just as well, although it wouldn't have done any better, so let's just wait for a response.
