@ Hitman

A rant but your are wrong to say modding has not done anything. C&C Mode is why I play this game still and having the ability to change small things like skins is a good bonus imo, albeit a necessary one.

Some servers do want that level of control over their players and RenGuard did offer it ("Pure" mode). The difference between what RenGuard and the TT patch is doing is simple. RenGuard forces you to remove all your models/textures/skins/huds/etc before you are allowed to play on a Pure mode server, while the TT patch simply doesn't load them if the server disallows them.

That's coollllll then.

So it's to the communities...I didn;t know that. Thx
