Much easier if everyone gets it. I still think it's should be server sided. Player joins server and if it's enabled, then he/she gets it. If not, then no HUD.

This is like the pointsfix issue...one side saying the other side is wrong and while they surely did make sense, for some, it is a matter of preference whatever effect it may have on the game.

Same thing here...no harm is being done if the power is given to server owners. So why it is so hard?
