RoShamBo wrote on Sun, 11 January 2009 13:42It would be trivial with a small edit to the custom scripts.dll. You could even do it with the LuaPlugin.

No one is going to hand it to you on a plate.

Actually someone will hand it on a plate

Many people on this forum know this already and offcourse the people on my board know it.

Im making an extra gamemode for SSGM based on my C&C server with the commander thing enabled.

Reason that it isnt released yet is because of the new patch, im not creating/publishing something that needs a major edit when scripts 4.0 comes out.

So for the people that are continiously messaging me about the "mod" i am running on my servers, here is the info!! i'm working on it and yes it will be released for the public.
