Download the SSGM version for reborn that I released on the reborn forums a while back. It contains the source code to the veteran system that Reborn uses. It's based on the same veteran code I released on these boards a long time ago, but has been extended to reward people who repair stuff too, and some other nice features using the little white text in the top left hand corner to send players messages about there veteran status.
The source code also contains allot of other neat features.
