The only possible way for mater to travel though the bounderys of time is the einstine rosen bridge aka a worm hole. Worm holes were thought to be a matter of inter planetary system travel. then came a hypotosiys using einstine's theroy of relitivity. when a person travels though a worm hole the person is instantly send to the area the other worm hole is and vica versa. If we send the exit point of a worm hole (worm hole B) to an other location at speeds that mirror the speed of light and travel though the entry point of a worm hole (worm hole A) we arive at the exit point a few seconds later but if we use (worm hole B) as a entry point we travel to the (worm hole A) before we even entered (worm hole B). this creates a time portal where mater can be sent thought the bounderys of time. i think.
