I suppose that's up to every server owner. Why do some server owners allow bright skins and others don't? I suppose tracability plays a big part. It's hard to catch someone using bright skins, so it's easier to allow it. It's hard to check if people use TS, voip over MSN, are on the telephone so it's allowed. It's hard to check hud's, so some people allow it.

It doesn't make it less a cheat.
