I agree with that some skins give advantages, and that some are just rediculus and nothing to do with Renegade.
How ever I use alot of skins myself, becuae they make me enjoy the game more.

Yeah sure, that's fine in my opinion. I didn't phrase it very well. I mean that I see some of the textures as cheats but I realise I said I see therm all as cheats, this isn't what I mean. There are many that are not advantage textures.
But to be honest, I like it the way it is really. Allot of the texture replacements do not look like they are professional, this is what I dislike.
My personal hate is the spongebob timed c4 that Zunnie uses. Half of me hates it because of the advantage it gives, the other half hates it because it is the embodiement (for me at least) of the dribbling, drooling, retarded window licking ten year old gamers who think they're the shit, but cannot even compose a legible paragraph.

If there was a really nice texture replacement I might use it, but for some reason unknown to me I tend to cling to a stock renegade client, I'm not normally a purist though :-/.
