Happy Birthday C&C Renegade!

C&C Renegade is 7 years old as of today. Congrats to all community members for making it this long! C&C Renegade is a long lasting game, and despite its lack of early sales, lack of support, and its experience with various cheats, the game is still alive and well. Big thanks goes out to those who have contributed to C&C Renegade over the years, including the various total conversion and server side mods, anti-cheat efforts and server owners.

C&C Renegade's unique gameplay is what has let it live for this long; let's hope to see the same gameplay being reiterated in Renegade X.

Renegade X: Gameplay Footage!

We decided to release a quick 1-minute compilation of ingame 1st and 3rd person clips from Renegade X in celebration of this day. It's a followup to our Holiday trailer, showing off the new light tank, flamethrower, the new HUD, and Walls Flying. Enjoy!

Remote C4

Our remote C4 is now complete! With a simple left click you could plant these babies, and a right click blows them up. Perfect against just about anything - ambush vehicles and infantry and close range, set traps, or blow up a building via its master control terminal!

Light Tank Ingame

You saw the Nod Light Tank last month, and now it's ready for action. Check out the trailer above to see it fight, here is a screenshot:

More Walls Flying pics!

That's it for now fellas. Happy Renegade day and keep your eyes open for some exciting updates shortly!
