If you edit your sound, and then log on in the future, those changes will still be there.

For over a year I was wondering why my sound was all funny.
Then I formatted, cleaned out my computer, and I had amazing sound again.
I almost cried.

Errr... You reformatted your HD to re-install because you didn't know volume-settings staying after you re-booted? Wow

Do you have on-board sound of a sound-card? You may not have the correct/latest drivers or possibly you hardware simply doesn't work with MILES.

EDIT: BTW this should probably be in the Renegade client subforum
