The question can't really be answered, they all have completely different objectives and jurisdictions.

For example, the FBI can't just come into town and tell the local PD how to do their jobs, they have to have jurisdiction over the specific case unless asked for assistance.

The FBI does however, have a lot more resources and access to more databases so it's easier for them to get information.

Edit: Since this forum fails at country flags I should probably point out, I live in Canada. So don't expect everything I said to be correct, I'm just guessing what makes the most sense.
