

---

Subject: Humans of yesterday, today and tommorrow
Posted by Starbuzz on Sat, 21 Mar 2009 15:44:56 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Even now, there are conflicting theories of how the ancient Egyptians managed to build giant towering pyramids in the middle of the desert.

In a couple thousand years, the humans of tommorrow will be wondering how brainless backward apes managed to build rockets and fly off into space and land on the moon.

The human journey is an incredible one, isn't it?

Here's a toast to yet another 3000 years of human progress!

---