Di3HardNL wrote on Wed, 25 March 2009 18:04 Why are you involving me in this u6795? You sound like the only thing I did was showing videos and screenshots.

I released many things.. and I don't think I am forced to release EVERYthing what I made for Renegade.

There are a couple of things which I like to keep for myself. And I didn't even mention the fact I written tutorials for you guys to make some of your own.

Thanks, I gues..

Sorry if my post sounded like it downplayed your work- your releases are steady and very high quality. The tutorials are also a really cool thing to do, considering it'd be easier with your skill to just keep to yourself. It was simply meant to emphasize how you and Scrin had worked together, resulting in a lot of advertisement for his work that we see around the forums.
