Scrin needs to stop showing off and actually release some stuff. It's ok to show some people your new hud or skins. But when you keep coming back and bragging just to make people jealous/worship you, of course some members are going to be pissed!

and @samous, seriously. You're just making it worse... for everyone, you, him, the community. Don't feed the troll. I know you really want those skins and shit, but try using some common sense.
