It is a way for people to leave message for me when I'm not around, it also allows me to checkin/look back and make sure everything is going ok. I can also be doing other stuff on the computer and still be aware of what is going on with n00bstories too. i see... but how you can sleep? and what's that for? its your business (im sure if do not turn off pc its will BUUUUUURN)

and whats up there with SIR "the kane"?

What.. the hell.

lol just because it is always on doesn't mean I am always here. Like I said it allows me to checkin when I've been gone and look back to make sure I didn't miss anything that needs my attention. N00bstories is a community not a business ... it also isn't mine. My computer never shuts off and no it doesn't buuuuuuuurn ... though I'm not really sure why you think it would. Sir_Kane is a long time member of the community.
