
Subject: The Governator is here!

Posted by Bearxor on Sun, 10 Aug 2003 00:02:38 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Well, he will win, but I don't feel it will be the best.

He claims that he wants to get buisnesses back to get the tax base back up to fund all of these programs he wants to start.

But the main reason the buisnesses were leaving in the first place was because of taxes.
:rolleyes:

He will win, but from what I can tell, he has absolutely no idea what he will do when he gets elected.

Honestly, couldn't you guys just wait until the next election?

EDIT: I do hope that he will do some good, because the whole economy of California is pretty much dragging down the US at this point (and NY)

EDIT 2: And there is absolutely no comparison to Ronald Regan here. RR was heavily involved in politics for years. Arnie has just been for the last couple of years.
