I'm not so convinced. On the Black-cell servers this change in gameplay become second nature to me... I used to switch characters all the time, I think I would of become annoyed if I was constantly paged.
It's from memory, it may well of paged me. but I don't think it's really that needed. It's super easy to do it though, anyone using the plug-in can add just one small line of code to do that.
If a server owner asks for it, i'll add it, but I'm not sure about it myself.
Thanks for the input though. I was starting to wonder if anyone was actually interested.

Like refund half the price, so 500 back for 1000, or any other percentage someone would want.

I know I have seen some severs have it like that.

You're right, it should have that. I'll make an update to include this.
